

Homophones

homophone

same

sound

Homophones are words that are spelled differently, have different meanings yet sound the same.

For example...

pair

pear

Photo courtesy of striatic and Key Foster @flickr.com) - granted under creative commons licence - attribution

For example...

weak

week

Photo courtesy of pedrosek and photosteve101 @flickr.com) - granted under creative commons licence - attribution

How many homophones can you think of?

break

brake

here

hear

night

knight

buy

by

Did you get any of these?

Find the homophones from the following clues.

a fruit

pair

pear

Photo courtesy of striatic and Key Foster @flickr.com) - granted under creative commons licence - attribution

Can you work out the homophones from the following clues?

Look at the ocean

see

sea

Photo courtesy of chase_elliot and Martin Brigden @flickr.com) - granted under creative commons licence - attribution

Can you work out the homophones from the following clues?

An animal that grows on your head hare

hair

Can you work out the homophones from the following clues?

Swallow a number

ate

eight

Photo courtesy of Michael Bentley and woodleywonderworks @flickr.com) - granted under creative commons licence - attribution

Can you work out the homophones from the following clues?

A boy around whom the planets revolve

sun

son

Photo courtesy of VinothChandar and Lies Thru a Lens @flickr.com) - granted under creative commons licence - attribution

Can you think of your own clues for these homophones?

break

brake

here

hear

night

knight

buy

by

Look carefully at these homophones and their meanings.

there

Referring to a place

their

When something belongs to someone they're

Short for 'they are'

hear

when you hear a noise

here

Referring to a place

